SECURED AN OUTFIT

Thief Visited the Clothing Store of M. Davis Saturday Night

Some time Saturday night a thief entered the clothing store of M. Davis in Market street, climbing through the transom over the back door. He seemed to be in need of an entire outfit, as he took a suit of clothes that was hanging in the front window, underclothes, shirt, collar, tie, suspenders, and hat, took off his old duds and left them lying on the floor.

He also took a suit case. There is no clue as to who the thief was, but it seems he knew the place and had picked out what he wanted.

Chief Ort is at work on the case, and will leave nothing undone in his efforts to capture the gentleman.

SCARED THE PEOPLE

A Drive of Geese Caused a Commotion in West Fourth Street.

Saturday afternoon Messrs. Brightman & Mauchester received over the L. and N. a carload of geese.

There were over 2,000 in the flock, and they were driven to the goose farm near Washington, going up Plum street and out Fourth to the Lexington pike.

People residing along the line of march could not imagine what was coming, as every goose wanted to have its say, and all were jabbering at once, making all kinds of noise.

They were from the mountains fifty miles back of Mt. Sterling, and the pike over which they were driven looked as though it had been rolled with the Woggle Bug, so smooth did they make it.

They will be fattened for the Eastern markets.

Small, Sweet Hams 15c.
Lean Breakfast Bacon, ^{WHOLE} 18c.

The Caleb Powers case is set for trial this term of the Scott Circuit Court, which convened at Georgetown this morning. As this term lasts only three weeks,—not long enough to hear the case—it is probable a special session will be called to try it.

Yesterday afternoon as Mr. Thomas Comer and Mrs. William Lalley were returning from the Washington Cemetery, and while coming down the steep hill on the Maysville and Lexington pike, the belly band on the horse broke, allowing the carriage to run up on the horse, which began kicking, finally landing the vehicle into a fence without injury to the occupants. A broken shaft was the only damage.

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT

Nine-Year-Old Lad Killed By a Street-car Saturday Morning

A distressing accident occurred Saturday morning between 10 and 11 o'clock at Second and Walnut streets, Fifth Ward, in which John William Candy, aged 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Candy, was run over and instantly killed by a streetcar being run by Motorman George Hunt.

The facts as told a Ledger Man by several eye witnesses are about as follows—

At the time named above young Candy with a number of other boys was playing ball in Walnut street, near Second.

After playing awhile the boys decided to change their playgrounds to one across Second street.

Young Candy picked up a glove and started to run.

The glove belonged to another boy, who started after him.

The boys ran out onto Second street, and Candy was watching the boy that was after him and not paying attention to anything else.

A streetcar was going East in charge of Motorman George Hunt, and before the car reached Walnut street, Mr. Hunt sounded the gong several times.

Young Candy did not seem to hear the sound of the gong or the approaching car, and he was running toward the car looking at the boy behind him.

Motorman Hunt did his best to stop the car, but before he could do so the boy ran into it, which threw him to the ground, he falling on the track, and the truck of the car passed almost over him at the stomach, severing his body in two.

He was picked up by Undertaker John Porter, who was a passenger on the car, and carried to the pavement, where the body was viewed by Coroner George W. Orr and Jury, which, after taking testimony from a number of witnesses to the terrible accident, rendering the following verdict—

MAYSVILLE, KY., September 29th, 1906. We, the Jury, find that John William Candy met his death by being run over by a streetcar run by George Hunt as Motorman. According to the evidence before us, we believe it to be an unavoidable accident.

CHARLES F. REED, Foreman;
M. B. STRODE,
JOSEPH HOOFS,
JAMES B. KEY,
JAMES SARTIN,
GEORGE M. TRUMBO.

After the Coroner's Jury had finished its work, the body was removed to the home of its parents nearby, where it was prepared for burial.

The funeral took place this morning at 9 o'clock from the First Baptist Church, the services being conducted by Rev. G. W. Euntun of the Third Street M. E. Church.

The interment followed in the Mayslick Cemetery.

The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Candy, five brothers, one of whom is in New York and another in Cincinnati, and two sisters have the sympathy of the entire community in their sudden and sad bereavement.

THAT fellow over at Lancaster who bet $200 that BECKHAM would beat MCCREARY in the Senatorial race, must have a soft place under his bonnet.

PARAPHRASING Councilman CALEB WHITE'S famous report on the Bridge street improvement, the builders of our brick streets are "progressing annually a little every day"—none.

CITIES, no less than individuals, invariably get the worst end of the bargain when they accept the "cheapest" bid for work. A "cheap" job of any kind is the dearest job every time.

THE Cubanese idea of a Republic appears to be for the party that is defeated at the polls to at once inaugurate an armed revolution and begin killing the victors—reducing the majority, as it were.

IN an effort to rid the city of "Boss" Rule, Cincinnati defeated COX, HERMANN, HYNICKA & Co., Republicans, only to elect DEMSEY, LANDESCO & Co., Democrats, who now hold the poor old "Plaster Paris of America" in a grip of iron.

ABOUT two blocks of brick streets have been put down by "experimenters," and it is high time that some real work was done by people who really know how to do it. The first step is the employment of an Engineer who is experienced in street building and who will give to the work the skill and attention that the city pays for.

June W. Gayle of Oaxenton, who has been a candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Treasurer, Saturday announced his withdrawal from the race, leaving a clear field for his opponent, Ruby Laffoon of Madisonville.

WORKING WOMEN

Their Hard Struggle Made Easier—Interesting Statements by a Young Lady in Boston and One in Nashville, Tenn.

All women work; some in their homes, some in church, and some in the whirl of society. And in stores, mills and shops tens of thousands are on the never-ceasing treadmill, earning their daily bread.

All are subject to the same physical laws; all suffer alike from the same physical disturbance, and the nature of their duties, in many cases, quickly drifts them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints, tumors, ulceration, falling and displacements or perhaps irregularity or suppression, causing backache, nervousness, irritability and lassitude.

They especially require an invigorating, sustaining medicine which will strengthen the female organism and enable them to bear easily the fatigues of the day, to sleep well at night, and to rise refreshed and cheerful.

How distressing to see a woman struggling to earn a livelihood or perform her household duties when her back and head are aching, she is so tired she can hardly drag about or stand up, and every movement causes pain, the origin of which is due to some derangement of the female organism.

Miss F. Orser, of 14 Warrenton Street, Boston, tells women how to avoid such suffering; she writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"I suffered misery for several years with female irregularities. My back ached; I had bearing-down pains, and frequent headaches; Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

I could not sleep and could hardly drag around. I consulted two physicians without relief, and as a last resort, I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to my surprise, every ache and pain left me. I gained ten pounds and am in perfect health."

Miss Pearl Ackers, of 327 North Sumner Street, Nashville, Tenn., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"I suffered with painful periods, severe backache, bearing-down pains, pains across the abdomen; was very nervous and irritable, and my trouble grew worse every month. My physician failed to help me and I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon found it was doing me good. All my pains and aches disappeared, and I no longer fear my monthly periods."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing cure for all these troubles. It strengthens the proper muscles, and displacement with all its horrors will no more crush you.

Backache, dizziness, fainting, bearing-down pains, disordered stomach, incontinence, dislike of friends and society—all symptoms of the one cause—will be quickly dispelled, and it will make you strong and well.

You can tell the story of your sufferings to a woman, and receive helpful advice free of cost. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years she has, under her direction and since her decease, been advising sick women free of charge.

SIMPLIFIED spelling in civil service examinations will be accepted the same as the old style, according to an order just issued by the Civil Service Commissioners. That's good. Now, if the applicants can only acquire a system of 'simplified reading,' develop even a slight knowledge of the location of boxes in the Post-office, it will go a long way toward reducing profanity on the part of patrons.

LOUISVILLE has one Preacher with a head full of sense. His name is W. H. RAMSAY, and may his tribe increase. In a recent Sunday sermon he said—

"There is no greater menace to our free institutions than the dominance of our political administrations by public-service corporations and trusts. The liquor trusts have become a great evil in this respect, and are most dangerous because they use the criminal and lawless to effect their anti-social ends. They have made it next to impossible for a decent man to operate a saloon. Conditions in Louisville are as bad as they can well be. The number of saloons is out of all reasonable proportion to the population, and the character of many of them is unspeakably vile. They are mills of crime. Neither our state nor this city can continue to tolerate conditions as they exist. The Sunday-closing movement is one indication of public sentiment. But zeal for Sunday closing may blind us to the real root of the evils, which lies in the character of the saloons and the methods of licensing and the lack of proper control.

"Our city needs a radical reform in these respects. The licensing board should have no connection whatever with the liquor business. The political dominance of the liquor trusts in our civic administration must be broken at any cost. The license fee should be raised to at least $500 and preferably $1,000. This would close the low dives and barrel-houses. The hours of sale should be restricted to between 6 a. m. and 11 p. m. All screens and ugly blinds should be removed. The bar should give place to tables. Secrecy leads to hypocrisy and loss of self-respect. At present a man has to become a social hypocrite when he takes a drink. In Germany one seldom sees a drunken man. The people drink pure beer and light wines without hypocrisy or secrecy. The saloon-keeper must be made to feel responsible like every decent citizen to the best interests of the community.

"The threat of certain saloon men that if their business is interfered with they will use their influence at the polls to defeat a bond issue for public sewers is a sinister one. If the people of Louisville are cowardly enough to be deterred from their duty to the city by such a threat from such a source, they deserve to be slaves to the most demoralizing Trust in the country. I cannot believe this of our city. I believe in the principle of home rule for our city; but if the saloon interests persist in standing in the way of civic improvement and reform they may find to their cost that the city of Louisville is not the state of Kentucky."

SOCIAL EVENTS

"The Players" re-assembled for the season at the home of Miss Emma Campbell Saturday afternoon. After the enjoyment of Point Euche a substantial collation was served, and attractive prizes were awarded Misses Florence Rogers, Grace Anderson and Phoebe Waller.

TRIBUTE TO THE JEWS

What the Religious World Owe to This Wonderful People

"Notes and Comments" in Commercial Tribune.

The Jews have reason to be proud of their religion. It was born in the dawn of history, or even before history was written, and in its orthodox form is a ceremony of great dignity and extreme solemnity. It is beautiful and deeply impressive. With new and grand surroundings, housed as all will be within their classic temple, I look to see new developments in the way of new and stronger faith in the principles which have come down to the members of Bene Israel through many centuries.

Some parts of the religion of the Jews have no equal in the rituals of other Churches. Take the Feast of the Passover. Read first of the Exodus and then turn and read on the institutions of this solemn feast. In all scripture there are but few passages to equal this solemnity, and that is to say, in all of the world's literature which is worth reading. It is worth your while and time to take up your Bible and read more or less about this oldest religion in the world.

There is another thing we owe to the Mosaic religion—the Ten Commandments. Herein are found five commands mentioning our duties to Jehovah and five telling us of our duties to our fellowman. Think for an instant of the importance of these commands and of the result should all obey them. If that should come to pass cobwebs would cover the entrance to our criminal courtrooms and unbroken dust would be all over the corridors. Jails would decay and crumble into ruin and a policeman be a rarity. These commands, and many other matters almost as essential to happiness and health, we owe to the great lawgiver, Moses.

Dr. Pickett's Paper will Be Read in Louisville Tonight

At the meeting of the Filson Club in Louisville tonight, a paper written by Dr. Thomas E. Pickett of this city will be read.

The paper is titled, "A Quest for a Lost Race," and will attempt to show that the English inhabitants of Kentucky are of Normans, and not of Saxon, descent.

After the reading of the paper the subject will be open for general discussion.

This paper, so far as then written, was printed in THE LEDGER some months since; and it created such widespread interest that the Doctor was urged to enlarge its scope.

This he has done, and following its reading at the Filson Club, that body will have it published in permanent form.

GALVESTON

Great Hurricane Which Destroyed the City is Recalled

On September 8th, 1900, there occurred at Galveston, Tex., the most terrible disaster resulting from purely natural causes in the history of the North American continent.

A West Indian hurricane, lasting eighteen hours—the wind veering in every direction and reaching a maximum velocity estimated at 135 miles an hour—swept over the city, and the streets were finally overwhelmed to a maximum depth of 16 feet above mean low tide.

Within a period of five hours, but chiefly between 7 and 9 o'clock p. m., 6,000 lives were lost and property, including 7,000 buildings, valued at $18,000,000, was destroyed.

Help poured in from all parts of the country for the wretched survivors. Hope returned, and the city, inside of two years, was practically rebuilt, only much stronger, the great new breakwater wall alone costing about $2,500,000.

Perhaps the oddest house in all the world is owned by Fritz Schermer of St. Louis. The house stands all by itself out in the Northwest side of the city, only a few blocks from one of the great breweries, and from the outside it has the appearance of an ordinary "cottage" frame and shingle cottage, with a rather wide porch and odd angles to the roof. The strange feature of the house is that it is built entirely of beer kegs.

LEXINGTON OPINION

Editor Roberts Opens His Guns On The Ledger Man

Lexington Leader.
CAPTAIN DAVIS

Comes Up to Lexington to See the Bluegrass Fair and Visit Old Friends

Captain Thomas A. Davis, Editor of THE MAYSVILLE LEDGER, and one of the Bluegrass Fair's most loyal boosters among the newspaper men of Central and Eastern Kentucky, is in Lexington today visiting the Fair and mingling with old-time friends.

Captain Davis can do more things well than possibly any other Editor in Kentucky, and can turn his hand to any part of the newspaper game, from setting type to writing catchy poetry and sparkling editorials, and when it comes to Fourth of July or Decoration Day orations he is running over with eloquence.

Captain Davis was in at the birth of THE Lexington Leader, as one of the right-hand men, and remained with the new paper for several months, returning later to his old home in Mayville to take charge of THE LEDGER. He has not been in Lexington for seven or eight years, and spent an hour agreeably visiting THE Leader and inspecting its new building and plant.

The most awkward and ungainly woman can be transformed into a beautiful lovely creature if she has the brain power to absorb the fact that Holst's Rocky Mountain Tea will do the business. Tea or table, 35 cents.

"I need Cascarets and feel like a new man. I have been a sufferer from dyspepsia and sour stomach for the last two years. I have been taking medicine and other drugs, but could not get relief only for a short time. I will recommend Cascarets to my friends as the only thing for indigestion and sour stomach and to keep the bowels in good condition. They are very nice to eat."

River News

Gage marks 8.6 and rising.

The Kanawha coal fleet began passing today.

There will be no boat tonight for up-river pilots.

The Henry M. Stanley will be down tonight from Pomeroy.

Captain Alex. Calhoun of this city now has charge of the wheel of the Greenwood.

The Snagboat Woodruff has returned from the Lower Ohio, where she has been clearing the channel.

The Greenwood's repairs will be completed this week at Cincinnati and she will again be put back in the Pomeroy trade.

Towns along the river are appointing delegates to the annual meeting of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association to be held at Portsmouth the 15th to 20th of this month.

The Greenwood is now in the Cincinnati-Mayeville trade in place of the Tacoma, the latter having been taken to Point Pleasant for some light repairs. The Courier, as soon as a new shaft is placed on her, will resume her place in the local trade.

The big towboat Sprague has left New Orleans with fifty-six empty coalboats and is coming up the Mississippi river. This is a record-breaking tow. River conditions are favorable for such a tow, as there is low water in the river and the current is not strong.

A new towboat is to be added to the fleet of the A. R. Budd Coal Company. Captain J. M. Hammett is building at his Marietta boatyards the boat which is to take the place of the Frank Gilmore, and which will probably bear the name of the old boat. The Budd Company only recently added the new towboat Reaper to its fleet. The new Gilmore will cost about $120,000, considerable money being saved by the good condition of the old Gilmore's machinery.

TUCE LAMBDEN'S WILL
Estate Divided Among Those Who Were Kind to Him

The will of the late Erastus Lambden, in his own handwriting, admitted to probate today, is as follows—

MAYSVILLE, KY., January 1st, 1902.

I, E. Lambden, do make this my last will and testament:

After all my debts and funeral expenses are paid—

First—I will to my namesake, E. L. Willett, $1,500, my watch and diamond pin.

Second—I will to Mrs. Nancy Rose, wife of G. W. Rose, $500, and all my clothes and bedroom furniture.

Third—I will to my old colored friend, Jim Alexander, $100.

Fourth—I want $200 put in the hands of the Treasurer of the Cemetery Company, or some other safe place, to assist in keeping my lot in good shape.

Fifth—I will to the two daughters and one son of my old friend, W. P. Clayton—Mrs. Olla Rasp and Miss Annie Clayton and Mr. Thomas Clayton—all the balance of my estate, real, personal or mixed, of which I may be possessed at the time of my death, they to share and share alike.

I nominate Mr. E. A. Robinson and Charles C. Dohy as Executors hereof, and direct that no security be required.

Take your time and settle with these people as you think best, and pay yourselves well for same, is my last request. E. LAMBDEN.

The estate amounts to about $6,000, and Messrs. Robinson and Dohy will see that the testator's wishes are carried out to the letter.

There is nothing that takes away the beautiful, wistfully charming plodding, steady, upward struggle. There is absolutely no excuse for that as long as Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is made. Ten or twelve 35 cents. J. James Wood & Son.
